

What Food Safety Training is available?

Taught courses, open learning programmes and eLearning courses are available at Levels 1 to 3.

Level 1 –

Introductory Food Hygiene in the seafood industry short taught course. For low risk seafood businesses or where a foreign language taught course is essential. REHIS accredited. Available in seven languages.

Level 2 –

Available as a one day taught course, or an open learning programme in 4 languages. Leading, by examination, to a CIEH Level 2 Food Safety certificate or a REHIS Elementary Food Hygiene qualification.

Level 3 –

An eLearning programme leading to a REHIS food hygiene qualification. Our UK network of invigilators can offer the examination wherever it is needed.

HACCP

A short 4 hour training course that introduces the principles of HACCP. REHIS accredited.

- For all sectors in the seafood industry
- Delivered by Seafish-approved and experienced trainers
- Designed to meet the needs of the seafood industry
- Nationally recognised
- Level 1 available in Latvian, Lithuanian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish and English
- Level 2 Open learning available in Lithuanian, Polish, Portuguese and English
- Level 3 by elearning
- Seafish funding support may be available

For more information view the individual leaflet for each of these programmes, or contact your nearest Seafood Training Academy Partner or email academy@seafish.co.uk